

This is a poster.

It's telling you to do something about world poverty, starting with the homeless person standing on the corner.

sell what you can, give what you have

